iPod integration
for original
head units
with track &
playlist control

OE iPod Interfaces

The evolution of portable MP3 players progressing at a faster pace than ever before; with people now able to carry their entire music collection in their pocket and never need use a CD again. This naturally meant that a solution was required to connect the players into vehicles original systems, where the technology is often many months or years behind the aftermarket.

Connects2 can offer a large range of interfaces allowing iPods to be connected to original head units with control of the playlists and the tracks within, as though it were a CD changer. At the same time the display and controls of the iPod still work as normal as well as keeping the battery of the iPod charged.

Connects2 iPod interfaces are designed to Plug & Play to the head unit.

All interfaces are supplied with a dock connection cable although a full range of holders & active cradles are also available for an OE style installation.
